

Changing Your Pets Diet

Thinking of changing your pets diet to another brand or ingredient? You must take it very slow to allow your pet's stomach to adjust to its new food. The best way to change your pets food is to have some of the current food still on hand when making the change so that you can feed both foods mixed for at least 7 days to avoid GI upset.

Days 1 and 2

Feed $\frac{3}{4}$ of old food and $\frac{1}{4}$ new food in each serving to start the adjustment period.

Days 3 and 4

Feed $\frac{1}{2}$ of old food and $\frac{1}{2}$ new food per serving

Days 5 and 6

Feed $\frac{3}{4}$ of new food and $\frac{1}{4}$ old food per serving.

Day 7

Feed $\frac{3}{4}$ of new food and $\frac{1}{4}$ old food per serving.

Throughout this adjustment period, be sure to keep a close eye on your pet and make sure he or she is continuing to drink a normal amount of water, gas is low and stool remains normal. If you see a change in these areas, slow down the process and take more time to ease your dog into the new food.
